| Homebound status: Due to diagnosis of Cardiomyopathy Unspecified , the patient is experiencing decreased endurance and mobility, increasing the likelihood of falls. To safely leave their home, the patient needs assistance from another person and an assistive mobility device.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |  |                                                              |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |  |
| Clinical Condition The patient is an 82-year-old woman with a past medical history significant for coronary artery disease, cardiomyopathy Requiring Homecare:(previous EF 45%), hypertension, hyperlipidemia, hypothyroidism, bilateral knee replacements, and a left hip replacement. She was recently hospitalized for shortness of breath, where workup revealed mildly elevated troponins and an echocardiogram showing an EF of 20%. Cardiac catheterization identified approximately 70% stenosis in the LAD, for which a stent was placed. Cardiology consultation considered the differential of non-ischemic cardiomyopathy versus Takotsubo cardiomyopathy. She was initiated on guideline-directed medical therapy (GDMT), including Metoprolol 50 mg, Losartan 100 mg, and Spironolactone 25 mg. Farxiga was trialed but discontinued due to her history of recurrent urinary tract infections and urinary incontinence. The patient was discharged with a wearable defibrillator (LifeVest) and instructions to follow up with cardiology for repeat echocardiogram to reassess EF and determine the need for ICD placement.&nbsp;Following discharge, the patient transitioned from a subacute rehabilitation facility to her independent living facility (ILF), where she resides in a second-floor apartment with elevator access. On home health evaluation, she was alert, cooperative, and corroborated her hospital course. Functionally, she is able to stand and transfer independently, ambulate short distances with a rolling walker independently, and requires supervision for longer ambulation. Stair negotiation, car transfers, and outdoor ambulation have not yet been assessed. The Timed Up and Go (TUG) test was completed in 54 seconds, confirming she is at high risk for falls and demonstrating reduced cadence.&nbsp;The patient was provided with a home exercise program consisting of seated therapeutic exercises, sit-to-stand training, and ambulation practice. Education was provided regarding medication adherence, safe use of assistive devices, and fall prevention strategies. She will benefit from skilled therapy services to address decreased strength, endurance, mobility, and balance, with the goal of promoting independence, improving safety, and supporting a return to her prior level of function. Continued skilled nursing oversight will include medication monitoring, reinforcement of heart failure self-management strategies, and coordination with cardiology regarding LifeVest management and follow-up care.Date of Order11/06/2025OrdersPhysician Face-to-Face Date: 08/28/2025Clinical Condition Requiring Home Care per Certifying Physician: sn-disease management pt-eval & treat ot-eval & treat due to Cardiomyopathy UnspecifiedHomebound Status per Certifying Physician: patient requires another person or medical equipment such as crutches, a walker, or a wheelchair to leave home4 - Recertification Notes: The patient has been seen by PT the past several weeks following life vest placement and is making good progress towards mobility goals. The patient had previously report increased fatigue and feelings of weakness the past several sessions however this seems to be improving with noted increase in energy levels. The patient demonstrates weakness in BUE/BLE of grossly 4-/5 MMT. The patient will continue to benefit from skilled therapy services.PhysicianCook IV, Joseph |  |                                                              |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |  |
