| Clinical Condition Requiring Homecare:Ms. Snyder is an 80-82-year-old female with a complex medical history significant for heart failure with preserved ejection fraction, atrial fibrillation, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), obstructive sleep apnea, chronic kidney disease, gout, and pulmonary disease. She was hospitalized on 02/07/2026 with acute flu-like symptoms, dyspnea, and bilateral lower extremity pain. Diagnostic evaluation revealed acute diastolic heart failure, bilateral venous stasis with contact dermatitis, and an E. coli urinary tract infection. Laboratory findings included an elevated proBNP of 4.7 K, and chest imaging demonstrated a mild left pleural effusion. Transthoracic echocardiogram performed on 02/10/2026 showed a preserved ejection fraction greater than 70%. During hospitalization, she was treated with intravenous diuretics (Lasix) and a short course of acetazolamide, along with management of her urinary tract infection, gout, and venous stasis. She was subsequently discharged to a post-acute care facility and has now returned home for continuation of care. The patient resides alone in a first-floor apartment and is a full code. She has multiple documented allergies, including fish-containing products, shellfish, iodine-based contrast agents, latex, hydroxyzine, and drospirenone-ethinyl estradiol. All prescribed medications are present in the home. She is oxygen-dependent, currently requiring 2-3 liters per minute via concentrator, with oxygen saturation remaining within normal limits at rest despite reports of dyspnea on exertion. On assessment, the patient demonstrates generalized weakness, decreased endurance, and impaired mobility. She ambulates with a walker and requires one-person assistance for safe transfers and ambulation. Gait is unsteady and discontinuous, placing her at increased risk for falls. Functionally, the patient has experienced a decline from her prior level of independence. Previously, she was independent with basic self-care and functional mobility for short distances, using a wheelchair for longer distances, and had assistance with instrumental activities of daily living such as housekeeping and laundry. Currently, she presents with decreased standing balance, reduced standing tolerance, diminished bilateral upper extremity strength, and decreased activity tolerance, all of which impair her ability to safely perform activities of daily living, transfers, and mobility tasks. Skilled nursing and therapy services have been initiated to address her current deficits and medical needs. Education has been provided on fall prevention strategies, safe use of her walker, and implementation of a home exercise program to improve strength and endurance. Occupational therapy evaluation supports the need for continued skilled intervention to address deficits in self-care, functional transfers, and mobility, with the goal of returning the patient to her prior level of function. The plan of care includes ongoing monitoring of cardiopulmonary status, oxygen requirements, and response to treatment, along with rehabilitation interventions focused on strengthening, balance, endurance, and safety awareness. Given her medical complexity, oxygen dependence, and impaired mobility requiring assistance, the patient is considered homebound and requires continued multidisciplinary home health services to optimize functional recovery, prevent rehospitalization, and maintain safety within the home environment.Date of OrderOrdersPhysician Face-to-Face Date: 03/04/2026Clinical Condition Requiring Home Care per Certifying Physician: sn-disease management pt-eval &amp; treat ot-eval &amp; treat due to cmh class="chrome-extension-FindManyStrings chrome-extension-FindManyStrings-style-13 CE-FMS-Hypertensive">Hypertensive</mh> heart and chronic kidney disease without heart failure, with stage 1 through stage 4 chronic kidney disease, or unspecified chronic kidney diseaseHomebound Status per Certifying Physician: patient requires another person or medical equipment such as crutches, a walker, or a wheelchair to leave home1 - SOC - SN Notes: socPT Eval Notes:OT Eval Notes:PhysicianBond, Laura |                                     |                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                           |
